

May 7, 2020

Unifor members mobilize online to urge Doug Ford to fix long term care, AWOC members send heartfelt video thank you to #CovidHeroes, Unifor demands Ottawa close the glaring loophole in CERB that is shortchanging thousands of workers and Jerry Dias advocates for swift action to address crisis in media sector.

WHAT'S HOT

Watch this heartfelt video message from the Aboriginal and Workers of Colour leadership graduating class of 2019 as they thank COVID Hereos. Send your video to communications@unifor.org.

TAKE ACTION

The CERB has a glaring loophole that's short-changing thousands of workers. Add your name to the petition demanding Minister Carla Qualtrough close the gap:

The situation in long-term care is critical. Thousands showed support for Online Day of Action urging Doug Ford to make changes now!

READ MORE

The tide of public support has turned against Co-op Refinery as Regina City Council calls on Premier Scott Moe to legislate an end to the lockout.

READ MORE

Watch Naureen Rizvi show how Unifor members are stepping up to make medical gear needed to fight COVID-19 and the important lessons learned from the pandemic.

WATCH VIDEO

Ottawa needs to take on Facebook and Google as COVID-19 throws media into deeper crisis, says Jerry Dias in a message to the federal government.

Unifor locals in Western Canada celebrated May Day this year with a massive donation to food banks.

READ MORE

READ MORE

Health care Local 4600 in Cape Breton has been restocking a community cupboard to assist those in need during the pandemic.

Unifor Scholarship deadline extended – entrants have until June 15 to apply for one of 28 entrance scholarships valued at $2,000 each to assist members with children entering postsecondary education.

UIN CASE YOU MISSED IT

Sign this petition to help raise the bar for everyone by encouraging CEOs and senior executives at Canada's largest retailers to make COVID-19 wage premiums permanent.

RESOURCES

This week is Mental Health Week.
Revisit the resources for Unifor
members seeking support and help yourself and others be well.

READ MORE