

November 2, 2023

The Stellantis bargaining committee reached a tentative agreement, members on strike at the St. Lawrence Seaway will vote on a new contract, Unifor demands answers from RYAM management in Temiscaming, and Grand River Hospital workers achieve a hard-earned contract.

 WHAT'S HOT

 TAKE ACTION

Unifor vows to fight for members facing an uncertain future at the pulp mill in Temiscaming.

READ MORE

Email your Member of Parliament to demand stronger legal support for people seeking abortions

READ MORE

->

IN THE NEWS

Hours after a strike began at Stellantis, Unifor and the employer reached a tentative agreement.

READ MORE

November 2 is the International Day to End Impunity for Crimes against Journalists.

READ MORE

The 2023 B.C. Women's Regional Conference highlighted leadership at every level of Unifor.

READ MORE

Unifor has reached a tentative agreement with St. Lawrence Seaway Management Corporation.

READ MORE

Unifor hosted its annual EI/CPP Conference in Port Elgin on October 26-29.

READ MORE

Unifor members at Grand River Hospital have secured a new agreement after relentless mobilizing.

READ MORE

Unifor members from across the Maritimes volunteered to help build tiny homes for unhoused individuals in the Moncton area.

VIEW PHOTOS

Check out “So you’re a union rep...now what?” to learn the basics of grievance handling, human rights and health and safety.

READ MORE