

uniLINK

November 06, 2025

Unifor demands that federal budget investments deliver real job creation. In Quebec, members call on Premier Legault to use public purchasing power to protect good jobs. Nova Scotia members rally for fair long-term care bargaining. Watch videos from the Solidarity Actions at Brampton and CAMI Assembly Plants. In Ontario, school bus drivers near a strike deadline, while in B.C., history is made as the Amazon bargaining process begins. And don't miss Wendy's story as she fights to Keep Crown Royal Canadian.

Wendy has worked at the Crown Royal plant in Amherstburg, Ontario for 27 years. Now liquor giant Diageo is closing the plant and moving her job to the United States.

WATCH VIDEO

Ontario Regional Council will take place December 5-7 in Toronto.
Register now.

READ MORE

 IN THE NEWS

Federal Budget 2025: Investment to build in Canada is welcome but it must deliver Canadian jobs, Canadian content, and Canadian production backed by strong industrial strategies.

READ MORE

Unifor protests in front of François Legault's office to demand the Quebec government prioritize local purchasing.

READ MORE

Atlantic Regional Director Jennifer Murray and members rallied to demand the N.S. government end the two-year delay in long-term care bargaining.

READ MORE

Watch Unifor Local 1285 members and allies in Brampton call on Stellantis to reverse its decision to move the Jeep Compass program to the U.S. and keep good auto jobs in Canada.

WATCH VIDEO

Watch GM CAMI workers in Ingersoll rally to protect Canadian jobs and investment after the company announced plans to cancel production of the BrightDrop program.

WATCH VIDEO

School bus driver members at First Student Canada in Southwestern Ontario prepare for possible strike action.

READ MORE

Unifor members tackle climate justice for workers during “Courageous Voices For a Just Transition” webinar.

READ MORE

BARGAINING UPDATES

For the first time in British Columbia, workers elected by their peers sat down across the table from Amazon representatives to negotiate a first collective agreement.

READ MORE