

June 18, 2026

Black, Indigenous, and Workers of Colour conference, pay transparency in New Brunswick, Human Rights Conference registration deadline extended, Pride season, Skilled Trades Council, National Indigenous Peoples' Day, landmark Brinks arbitration win, World Refugee Day, and new collective agreements at Air Canada, Woodingford Lodge, and Superior Greenstone Community Living.

 WHAT'S HOT TAKE ACTION

Workers in New Brunswick secure major victory with the passage of the Pay Transparency Act.

READ MORE

Deadline Extended! Register by June 26 to spend an energizing weekend at the Family Education Centre organizing for change.

READ MORE

IN THE NEWS

The Black, Indigenous and Workers of Colour conference explored the theme Status, Safety and Solidarity: The Power of Us.

READ MORE

Pride season is in full swing! Check out upcoming events, including the Toronto

Protecting jobs, expanding apprenticeships and tackling workplace

Pride Parade on June 28.

READ MORE

harassment were front and centre at the Unifor National Skilled Trades Council.

READ MORE

June 21 is National Indigenous Peoples' Day. Read Unifor's statement and participate in local events.

READ MORE

A landmark ruling strengthens workplace safety protections for armoured car workers across Canada.

READ MORE

Prairies members will campaign for stronger health and safety regulations and harsher penalties for employers who put workers in harm's way.

WATCH VIDEO

On World Refugee Day, Unifor renews its commitment to refugee rights, safety and dignity for all.

READ MORE

Unifor members at Air Canada ratified a new contract with strong gains in wages, benefits and pensions.

READ MORE

Long-term care workers at Woodingford Lodge ratify new agreement, securing important gains for frontline care.

READ MORE

Developmental service workers at Superior Greenstone Association for Community Living ratify new collective agreement.

READ MORE